Something for Your Child:

Arts and crafts will be used to motivate children to get excited about their own creativity. This will lead to development in self-confidence, self-discipline, ability to work in a group and the satisfaction of mastery. Study shows that Arts and Crafts helps children feel good about themselves and this helps them to grow intellectually, emotionally and socially.

Hence, come and learn with your child. While you attend the talk, your child will be engaged in making something for the family.
